请阅读下面这篇文章, 根据所提供的信息, 回答 5 个问题。要求所写答案语法正确、语义完整。

Watching the Spring Festival Gala Evening Show in 2022, my five-year-old son got to know that Wang Yaping with another two astronauts spent Spring Festival in Tiangong Space Station. I told my son that Wang Yaping's daughter Yunxi was spending Spring Festival with her grandparents, her mother was on a 6-month journey to pick stars in space.

"I am sure Wang Yaping is always missing her daughter Yunxi, and Yunxi is missing her mother too. I want to make friends with Yunxi, because she is feeling lonely now. Besides, both of us are at the same age." my son said.

At night, I found it difficult for my son to fall asleep, he kept asking me, "Will astronauts run out of water sooner in space station?" I answered, " Don't worry about it. Scientists have made it possible to turn urine(尿液) into water with a machine."

My son said surprisedly,"Oh! I am sure the machine can rotate (旋转) fast, we have one in the kitchen. Let's collect our urine as soon as we wake up next morning, and the machine will make it". It seemed that my son was looking forward to trying out his idea and using a high speed blender to turn urine into water.

In fact, the machine is a new system takes the combined urine of astronauts' from the toilet and moves it to a big tank, where the water is boiled off, and the vapor(蒸汽) is collected and mixed with water from air, and then it goes through filters(过滤器). Six litres(升) of urine can be turned into five litres of water.

How happily we talked about the ways of living in space station! My son brought me happiness in the end, though his idea made me feel uncomfortable at the beginning.

Next day, it was the first day of Chinese lunar calendar, I asked my son to say good words to people around us and spread(传播) beauty everywhere we went.
